

ISM—Buffalo, Inc.

ISM-Buffalo presents an educational webinar via Zoom

Wednesday, May 25, 2022
12:00pm - 1:00pm

Russia’s Invasion of Ukraine, COVID & Future Supply Chain Disruptions in 2022

The Russian invasion of Ukraine is horrific, offensive, and damaging lives and supply chains. COVID-19 pandemic with its variants is impacting different parts of the world at different times and continue to do so. Extreme weather events, which have unleashed environmental catastrophes leading to loss of human lives, continue to prevent areas around the world from producing and moving materials. Cyber security issues are disrupting systems and impacting supply chains while shutting down businesses, geo-political issues which could threaten our supply of energy and semi-conductor chips, the looming longshoreman potential strike and how it could impact our already overwhelmed ports in California and lastly the "bull whip effect" which could cause inventory issues for companies in 2022. What supply chain disruptions should we expect in 2022? When will this global supply chain chaos end? Will we get back to normal?

Presenter: Patrick Penfield, Ph.D.

Patrick Penfield is a Professor of Practice - Supply Chain Management and Director of Executive Education at the Whitman School of Management - Syracuse University. He has his Ph.D. in Sustainable Resource Management and is Certified in Purchasing Management (CPM), Certified Fellow in Production and Inventory Management (CFPIM) and Certified in Integrated Resource Management (CIRM). He was voted Faculty of the Year at the Whitman School of Management in 2007 & 2018, selected for the prestigious Syracuse University Meredith Teaching award in 2009 and in 2015 received the Oberwager award for engagement with students. Penfield has over 15 years of industry experience in Supply Chain Management & Manufacturing working for such companies as the Raymond Corporation, Johnson & Johnson and Philips Electronics. Professor Penfield’s research focuses on Forestry, Natural Resource Management and Sustainability. Dr. Penfield has appeared on Good Morning America, CBS & ABC Evening News and has done several print media interviews with USA Today, Fox, CNN, Bloomberg, Time, Newsweek and several other trade magazines and news media outlets.

ISM-Buffalo Members....no cost

Non-Members/Guests...$15.00

Reservations requested by noon on Tuesday, May 24th but call for availability after that time. (716) 648-0972; ismbuf@ismbuffalo.com. You will receive the log-in information prior to event.

EARN (1) CEH